

Contracting Entities Table (CET)

Last Updated: March 31st, 2025

Version: 1.0

Effective Date: March 31st, 2025

Title: Contracting Entities Table (CET)

1) Purpose & Incorporation

This Contracting Entities Table (“CET”) specifies the contracting entity, governing law, venue, currency, invoicing identity, and notices details for transactions that reference the CET in the Master Terms or an Order Form/Purchase Schedule. The CET is incorporated by reference into such agreements.

2) How This Table Is Used

1. For all transactions, the contracting entity and terms are as set out in Section 3 (United States Default).
2. If a future Order Form designates a different CET row (e.g., upon formation of additional entities), that selection controls for that Order.
3. In the event of conflict, the following order of precedence applies unless the Master Terms or Order Form expressly provides otherwise: (1) Master Terms / Agreement; (2) Order Form or Purchase Schedule; (3) this CET.

3) Contracting Entity — United States (Default)

Field	Value
Contracting Entity	Verisq, Inc., a North Carolina corporation
Governing Law	North Carolina law (without regard to conflict-of-laws rules)
Exclusive Venue / Courts	State and Federal courts located in Wake County, North Carolina (Raleigh Division)
Currency	USD
Invoicing Entity / Tax ID	Verisq, Inc. EIN: 87-4630179
Legal Notices (Address)	Verisq, Inc. 4242 Six Forks Road, Suite 1516, Raleigh, NC 27609, USA
Legal Notices (Email)	legal@verisq.ai
Operational Notices	support@verisq.ai
Language	English

Notes: (i) Prices exclude taxes; Customer is responsible for applicable taxes unless a valid exemption is provided. (ii) Remittance/banking details are provided on invoices.

4) Dispute Resolution

- Exclusive Venue & Submission. The parties irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts listed above and waive objections including forum non conveniens.
- Interim Relief. Either party may seek injunctive or equitable relief in those courts to protect Confidential Information, intellectual property, or security.

5) Updates to This CET

1. Prospective Updates. Verisq may update this CET from time to time. Updates apply prospectively to new or renewing Orders with effective dates on or after the CET's stated Effective Date, unless otherwise agreed in writing.
2. Material Changes. Any change to governing law or venue for an existing active Order requires mutual written agreement (or will apply at renewal).

6) Change Log

- v1.0, US-only default; North Carolina law; exclusive venue in Wake County, NC; USD currency; notices set to legal@verisq.ai and listed Raleigh address; invoicing entity Verisq, Inc. (EIN 87-4630179).